FUNDAMENTAL PURPOSE

The purpose of the EasyLiving Home^{cm} certification program is to promote the building of homes with features that make a home more livable for all homeowners and their visitors. As a builder participant, you agree to uphold these fundamental principles in all your actions associated with the EasyLiving Home^{cm} program as follows.

Builders in the EasyLiving Home^{cm} program agree that their homes will include at a minimum the following features:

Easy Access with a step-free entrance of not more than 1/2 inch from a driveway, sidewalk, or other firm surface into the main floor of the home.

Easy Passage throughout the home because the exterior door that provides the step-free entrance and EVERY interior passage door on the main level (including bathrooms) must be at least a 3'0" or 2'10" door, or a 2'8" pocket door, or other solution that provides 32 inches of clear passage space. If desired, the door to a bathroom can be hinged out, like a closet door, to provide more interior space. Closets are not required to meet the 32-inch clear passage standard, but this can be an added advantage where feasible.

Easy Use because the main floor includes a kitchen, some entertainment area, a bedroom, and at least one full bathroom with designated maneuvering space (30" x 48" rectangle adjacent to the sink, shower or tub, and commode).

All advertising, marketing, displaying of materials, or similar activities will promote an EasyLiving Home^{cm} as a home for everyone rather than a specialty home for people with disabilities or older adults.

Participants agree to seek prior approval from the Statewide Independent Living Council of Georgia, Inc. (owner of EasyLiving Home^{cm}) or its designee prior to taking any action that may be inconsistent with this Agreement.
